From the Pennsylvania Office of Homeland Security:
2026 Pre-Holiday Safety & Security Virtual Workshop for Houses of Worship

As the holiday season quickly approaches, it's more important than ever to stay informed and vigilant about personal safety. Whether shopping online, visiting stores, or hosting and attending holiday gatherings, taking proactive steps to protect yourself can help ensure a safe and enjoyable season for everyone.

The Pennsylvania Office of Homeland Security is dedicated to ensuring the safety of our faith-based communities by promoting prevention, partnership, preparedness, and community resilience.

Our office will be hosting an informative 2-hour webinar on Thursday, November 19th, 2026, from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM. Designed specifically for our faith-based community, this webinar will cover two important areas of seasonal security:

Online Safety During the Holiday Shopping Season: Learn how to recognize and avoid common cyber threats, scams, and online risks that increase during the busy holiday shopping season.

Facility and Personal Security for Holiday Gatherings: Explore ways to prepare your buildings for holiday services, events, and gatherings. With larger crowds, increased attendance, and more open public access, the holiday season presents unique security challenges for Houses of Worship.

Gain practical insights and strategies to help protect your organization, its people, and its facilities throughout the holiday season during this online workshop.
